WHAT IS TRANSITIONAL JUSTICE?

The pictures above show one of the facilitators explaining the content of Chapter 5 of the revitalized peace agreement. With the use of Videos from previous case where Transitional Justice was successfully attained. The facilitator was able to make the participants understand that for transitional justice to be achieved, both the perpetrators and the victims must have the will to forget the past and forge a new future and those whose lost properties need to be taken into consideration and other aspects. In otherwords people need mental preparation first.

REACTIONS OF PARTICIPANTS

In their reactions, the participants commended RDAA for the wonderful initiative to educate them about transitional justice and request this doesn't end here but spread all over W.E.S. However, they sited the lack of political will by the government to implement Chapter 5 but hopped that the government speeds up the necessary arrangment for this to be attained.

Pictures show participants making their contribution

After more than three decades of war, the People of South Sudan, managed to reach a Revitalized Peace Agreement in 2018 and because attaining sustainable and true peace after decades of war is a process, one of the steps to attained this much wanted sustainable peace is Transitional Justice which is enshrined in chapter 5 of Revitalized Peace Agreement 2018 of the Republic of South Sudan. However, the biggest percentage of the citizens have never understood exactly what chapter 5 actually contains. Rural Development Action Aid(RDAA) in its bid to fill gaps in development decided to assist the government in equipping the citizens of Yambio with the knowledge about chapter 5 of the Revitalized peace agreement.
